

Monopolies are outlawed in nearly every industry. It would be most unwise and seemingly against the balance of our law to allow monopolies to form in the media industry, all the more so as elimination of competition would prevent the free exchange of diverse ideas.